

The National Title I Conference is an annual project of the National Title I Association (www.titlei.org), produced by A+ Events.

CAPITALIZE STUDENT ACHIEVEMENT

2010 NATIONAL TITLE I CONFERENCE
JANUARY 21 – 24 | WASHINGTON, DC
GAYLORD NATIONAL RESORT & CONVENTION CENTER

With more than 100 dynamic, high-quality sessions to choose from, the 2010 National Title I Conference will provide the ultimate opportunity in professional development.

You can bet your colleagues across the nation are planning on attending the invaluable four-day Conference. Cutting-edge presentations from experts will help you master new content.

Hear the latest in theory, practice and reform in three primary themes:

- *Capitalize Instruction for All Students
- *Capitalize Leadership for School Improvement
- *Capitalize Policy for Improved Student Achievement

COLLABORATION IN AN ENERGIZED SETTING

The Title I program is constantly changing, and savvy educators know they can broaden their knowledge by attending. The Conference will allow you to critically examine new approaches and discuss comprehensive and efficient ways to implement programs.

Don't forget the opportunity to network with colleagues. Collaboration is an essential part of this Conference. And the setting couldn't be more energizing: The illustrious Gaylord National Resort & Convention Center nestled on the banks of the Potomac River.
